in your hands and concentrate on your question for a few seconds while visualizing or speaking your question. Place one palm down on the book's front and stroke the edge of the pages back to front. When you sense the time is right, open to the page your fingers landed on and there is your answer. Fun, satisfying, and a lot less time consuming than asking everyone you know for advice. Over 1 million copies in print. Is there really such a thing as a blue moon? What time is it at the north pole? Why don't woodpeckers get concussed? Why don't snorers wake themselves with the racket they make? Do insects sleep? These are just a few of the intriguing questions asked and answered in the Quirks Quarks question book. The first question and answer book to come out of CBC Radio's enormously popular weekly science program Quirks Quarks. Producers have combed through ten years of archives to find the most puzzling questions or the most fascinating answers to apparently simple questions from the program's question of the week segment or its once-a-season all question show. The scientists and researchers with the answers, many of whom updated their answers for the book in light of new research findings, come from all scientific disciplines and all parts of the country. What they have in common is their ability to explain serious complicated science in layman's terms. This isn't science made simple, but science made understandable. Introduced by the program's host for the past ten years, the genial and ever-curious Bob McDonald, the Quirks Quarks question book has the answers to questions you may never have thought to ask. Why does Uranus spin on a different axis from all the other planets in our solar system? Or have spent idle time wondering about why is there a calm before a storm? Whether you want to know if you can sweat while you swim or what the view would be like if you could travel at the speed of light, or perhaps you just want to peruse the latest scientific thinking on a wide range of topics, the Quirks Quarks question book has the answers. Quirks Quarks has been keeping Canadians up to date on the world of science for more than 25 years. Every week, the program presents the people behind the latest discoveries in the physical and natural sciences, and the program also examines the political, social, environmental, and ethical implications of.

Kids love to be asked questions almost as much as they love to ask them and asking is important. Parents know the value of having meaningful conversations with their kids especially as family time is under continuous assault from gadgets and devices. Now, the book that solves those needs is back. Announcing a fresh new edition of the kids book of questions including subjects like the internet, school violence, and climate change. The book remains a timeless treasure here is a collection of questions designed to challenge, entertain, provoke, and expand young minds. These are the questions that let kids discover how they feel, let people know what they think, raise issues that everyone loves to discuss. Gregory Stock, author of the original best-selling book of questions, took his question asking ways into schools and came back with over 200 questions including thorny dilemmas. Would you rather have a job you didn't like that paid a lot or a job you loved that paid just enough to get by? Embarrassing challenges would you kiss someone in front of your whole class for $250? Provocative ideas: What things do you think your parents do just to set an example for you? Intriguing fantasies: If you could text any famous person and be sure they'd read and answer your text, who would you write to and what would you say? There is only one requirement: give an honest answer, then be amazed to see where one little question leads.

My Question and Answer Library 2018

What is it? What could it be? That noted author Mark Kurlansky has written a very short, terrifically witty, deeply thought-provoking book entirely in the form of questions. A book that draws on philosophy.
Religion, literature, policy—indeed, all of civilization—to ask what may well be the twenty most important questions in human history or has he given us a really smart impossibly amusing game of twenty questions? Kurlansky considers the work of Confucius, Plato, Shakespeare, Descartes, Nietzsche, Freud, Hemingway, Emily Dickinson, the Talmud, Charles de Gaulle, Virginia Woolf, and others, distilling the deep questions of life to their sparkling essence. What supplies endless fodder for thoughtful conversation but also endless opportunity to ponder and be challenged by and entertained by these questions in refreshingly original ways? As Kurlansky says, in a world that seems devoid of absolute certainties, how can we make declarative statements without asking the questions? How will we ever get to the answers? With his striking black and white woodcut illustrations throughout, this handsome volume is a tour de force that packs a tremendous wallop in a deliciously compact package.
